

If you are concerned about your midterm grade here are some resources:

Tutorial on how to View your Mid Term Grade

- Contact the class instructor

Visit with your instructors during their office hours to inquire about study strategies for their course. Your instructors want you to succeed and have dedicated office hours to support you in your academic experience.

- Utilize the tutoring and learning support services available to you

Student Resource Center (SRC) Success Workshops

Learn more about Academic Success Workshops.

SRC Supplemental Instruction Program (SI)

Learn more about the Supplemental Instructional Program.

SRC Tutoring Services

Learn more about Tutoring Services.

Quantitative Skills Center (QSC) Math Lab (VUB 102)

QSC Math Tutoring Drop-in Hours Schedule.

Writing Center (VLIB 203)

Learn more about the Writing Center.

eTutoring

To use this service go to <http://etutoring.org> and click on the “Login Now!” link. Choose “Northwest eTutoring Consortium,” then choose Washington State University from the list. In the login box, enter your Network ID and use “wsuonline” for the password. They will direct you to a page to set up an account.

Learn more about eTutoring.

Ask the Librarian

Learn more about Library services.

- Meet with your Academic coordinator to discuss additional options

College of Arts and Sciences Advising Center

The last day to withdraw from a class for the term is November 16th